RE: 1465 EAST CHEVY CHASE DRIVE
ADMINISTRATIVE EXCEPTION CASE NO. PAE 1527162
(see: PCUP 1527164 and PVAR 1527167)

Dear Mr. Mardian:

On May 4, 2016 the Planning Hearing Officer conducted and closed a public hearing, pursuant to the provisions of the Glendale Municipal Code, Title 30, Chapter 30.44, on your application for an administrative exception to maintain an existing single car garage door opening width of 8'-1", where 8'-8" is required, to meet the one guest parking space requirement (a 6.7 percent deviation from a code required numeric standard), subject to the provisions of the R-1250 zone in the "C3" zone, located at 1465 East Chevy Chase Drive, described as Lots 175 and 176, Tract 5319 in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles.

APPLICANT'S PROPOSAL

Administrative Exception

- 1) An administrative exception to maintain an existing single car garage door opening width of 8'-1"

CODE REQUIRES

Administrative Exception

- 1) A minimum 8'-8" is required for a single car garage door opening, to meet the one guest parking space requirement (a 6.7 percent deviation from a code required numeric standard).

ENVIRONMENTAL DETERMINATION

This project is categorically exempt from CEQA review as a Class 3 (New Construction or Conversion of Small Structures) exemption, pursuant to State CEQA Guidelines Section 15303 because construction of a small structure does not exceed the maximum density for the parcel. The building does not exceed six units in an urbanized area and all utilities are available to serve the property.

REQUIRED/MANDATED FINDINGS

After thorough consideration of the statements contained in the application, the plans submitted therewith, the report by the Community Development Department staff thereon, and the statements made at the public hearing with respect to this application, the Planning Hearing Officer has GRANTED WITH CONDITIONS your application based on the following:

A. The granting of the exception will result in design improvements, or there are space restrictions on the site that preclude full compliance with the Code requirements without hardship.

The applicant is proposing to construct two residential units, each with an attached two-car garage on a commercially zoned lot. The property is a 10,400 square foot rectangular shaped lot that slopes up from the street with an approximate average slope of 24 percent. The site is developed with a two-story apartment building, built in 1951 with two 2-bedroom dwelling units above a seven car garage (five individual garages and one, two-car garage) located at the rear of the property. The site is accessed by an existing 10 foot wide driveway located along the west property line. The new two-story multi-family building is approximately 25 feet high and will include two, 2-bedroom units with approximately 1,400 square feet and 1,495 square feet of living space.

The subject site is zoned C3 (Commercial Service), Height District I (50 feet maximum height). In the C3 zone, multiple residential dwellings with dwelling units at the ground floor level (developed to the R-1250 standards) require approval of a conditional use permit. The project also includes a variance request to use the existing driveway which has an 18.75 percent slope where 15 percent is the maximum.

The proposal to add two units to the existing two units on site requires a guest parking space. Seven parking spaces in enclosed garages are already located on the property where only four parking spaces are required for the existing units. This project proposes to use one of the existing excess parking spaces to serve as guest parking while maintaining a garage door opening width of 8'-1" instead of the required 8'-8" width, a 6.7 percent deviation that can be considered with an administrative exception application. Proposing to utilize an already existing parking space will result in a design improvement for the project because an additional guest parking space does not have to be added to the site. This will minimize the need for additional paving for a parking space, allowing for landscaping, as well as providing screening of the guest parking space in an enclosed garage.

B. The granting of the exception, with any conditions imposed, will not be materially detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to the property or improvements in such zone or neighborhood in which the property is located.

The granting of an Administrative Exception to allow for a slightly smaller garage door width to accommodate a guest parking space will not be materially detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to the property or improvements in the C3 zoned neighborhood in which the property is located. The existing garage door width dimensions, to access enclosed parking, has served the existing development since 1951 and will continue to be functional; thereby, maintaining the existing seven parking spaces with no spaces being lost. With the addition of the proposed project's two enclosed garages, for a total of four additional parking spaces, the site will have two extra parking spaces. As such, the granting of an Administrative Exception for the applicant's proposal will not be detrimental to the public welfare, injurious to the property, or improvements in the zone.

C. The granting of the exception will not be contrary to the objectives of the applicable regulations.

The purpose of the administrative exception procedure is to provide a simplified means for considering applications for minor deviations. The intent of dimension standards for garage door width is to provide sufficient access for a car to enter and exit a garage. Allowing for a slightly smaller garage door opening keeps the proposed project from having to substantially alter the existing building or possibly losing parking on site. Seven parking spaces already exist and with the proposed project, four additional parking spaces will be provided for a total of 11 parking spaces where nine spaces would be required. One parking space would be lost due to widening the garage door opening, which is unnecessary for an existing garage that has proven functional for adequate ingress and egress for several decades. Two additional parking spaces would serve the site better than having a slightly wider garage door width; therefore, granting a minor deviation (6.7 percent) from this code requirement would not be contrary to objectives of the regulations.

CONDITIONS OF APPROVAL

APPROVAL of this Administrative Exception shall be subject to the following conditions:

May 12, 2016

Happy morning Celeste! Maybe it's afternoon when you see this, if so, Happy Afternoon!

So I had the applicant revise his name to match the payee. I'm not sure if I give this to you to give to Erik for approval? Or would this one go to Jan since it's related to a Building Permit?

I wasn't sure and I will be gone until May 19th.

Worst case scenario, we can deal with it when I return.

Thanks!
